

A microscopic image showing numerous green, spherical virus particles. Each particle has a distinct dark spot in the center, likely representing the nucleocapsid. The particles are scattered across a bright blue background, which is itself set against a dark, almost black, outer border. The lighting is bright, highlighting the texture and color of the individual particles.

Des
VIRUS
et des
HOMMES